Production and Multiplicity of Forms of Production

By Karl Marx

Table of Contents

I. Coinage and labouring types
II. Coinage and forms of labour
III. Complex coinage systems of capital
IV. Commerce
V. Types of commerce
VI. Ensembles, Factories and Villages and Towns.
VII. Assemblies, Councils and Demonstrations
VIII. Class and Class-For-Itself.

I. Production Process – Agrarius or Factories

Now a production process is then complex production processes which then is in fact a multiplicity of production processes.

II. Complex Assemblies – Worker’s Councils

In fact then worker’s revolt then the council forms and this then is complex forms of councils which become an essence which is complex.

III. Multiplicities of Ensembles within Complex Production Processes

Now ensembles are complex within agrarian and factory systems and semi-factory towns.

IV. Cross-Section the Workers and Peasants in Mutliplcity

Now see a cross-section of peasants and cross-section of many organised and informalized working classes in ensembles, agrariuses and factory-systems.

V. Images of the People

I mean then be about images of complexity.

Engels edit this.

Friedrich Engels

I. Militant Leadership
II. Party
III. Workers
IV. Peasants
V. Councils
VI. Peasant Councils

Forms of assemblies and forms of demonstrations.

VII. Grundrisse – far flung areas.